Room types

Fosshotel Glacier Lagoon features 125 rooms ranging from economy rooms to family rooms and suites. Our rooms feature a modern, warm and simplistic design where you can experience the exquisite landscape through a large window opening, framing the beautiful scenery of the south coast or the mountains surrounding the building.

Mountain view

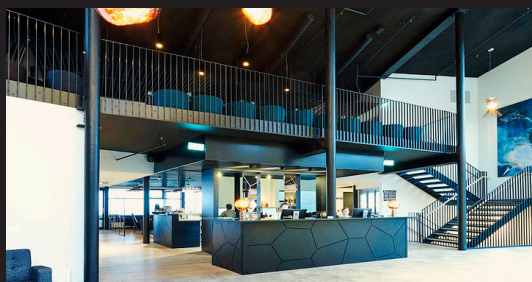

Our mountain view rooms (20 m²) feature a contemporary design with high ceilings and large windows framing the landscape surrounding the building.

Ocean view

Thoughtfully designed rooms (20-23 m²) with stylish comfort and views of the Atlantic Ocean. Ideal for couples or solo travelers seeking a quiet, scenic stay.

Suites

The suites (40.3 m²) feature a large corner bay window overlooking the spectacular landscape where you can sit and enjoy the view. Each suite also includes high ceilings and a luxurious bathroom.

The Restaurant

Dining under the stars, in the middle of nowhere.

Located right under the highest peak of Iceland, Hvannadalshnúkur (2110m), we want to take you on a one of a kind food journey. The cooking is inspired by the Icelandic nature surrounding the hotel where we emphasize on quality and creativity in our dishes. The restaurant offers seating for up to 180 people in a geometrical-style environment.

The Lounge bar

The hotel has a large lounge bar where you can enjoy a drink before dinner or unwind after a thrilling day exploring the nature. It features contemporary design and cozy atmosphere by a fireplace.

The Beautiful Glacier Lagoon

The hotel's name is derived from the famous Glacier lagoon, located on the edge of Breiðarmerkurjökull, only 20 minutes northeast of the hotel. The lagoon has made a name for itself as one of Europe's greatest natural phenomenon. The lagoon is a footprint of warming climate where large bricks of ice are breaking of this outlet of Vatnajökull, Europe's largest glacier, and finding their way into the lagoon.
